

Rose Community Foundation Insight Series

Closer Than You Think: Human Trafficking in Colorado

Human trafficking creates a cycle of violence and exploitation that encircles victims, their families, traffickers and the community. Join us as Amanda Finger from the Laboratory to Combat Human Trafficking shares what human trafficking looks like in Colorado, and Sergeant Daniel Steele from the Denver Police Department explains what is being done to stop it. Learn from Roots & Branches Foundation alumni how donors can help to address this complex community issue.
